

TAX COMMISSION IN SESSION.

APPOINTED TO REVISE THE TAX LAWS OF THE STATE.

New Hasting forth at the Oriental Hotel, Manhattan Beach—This is just a preliminary meeting—most work in the Fall—some of the hard problems.

The commission authorized by the last Legislature to revise the tax laws of the State began last night at the Oriental Hotel, Manhattan Beach, a preliminary session which will last for several days. It was at the suggestion of Gov. Higgins that ex-United States Senator Warner Miller, the chairman of the commission, called the members together at this early date to appoint sub-committees and lay out the work. The commission is to report to the Legislature on or before January 15, 1907.

Senator Miller said last night that Gov. Higgins considered the Commission the most important authorized by the Legislature in recent years. He said that the Governor's purpose in appointing the commission was to secure a more equitable and satisfactory basis of taxation. The report of the commission is to be accompanied by bills framed to carry out its recommendations.

"The commission," said Senator Miller, "would be very glad to hear from all who are interested in tax reform. A number of suggestions have already been made to various members of the commission, and in the full public meetings will be held in New York at which all parties interested will be heard, either orally or by petition, and experts will be called to examine the various remedies offered. The commission is charged by the bill creating it to inquire into the subject of assessment and taxation for State and local purposes, the operation and effect of the laws relating thereto and the expediency of revising and amending such laws so as to establish a more equal and just system of raising necessary public revenues. To carry out these instructions the commission will examine the systems of taxation of the various States and try to evolve a system more in accord with modern ideas."

The commission does not hope to be able to produce a perfect system of taxation which will be satisfactory to all parties, but it hopes to be able to modify the laws as they now stand so as to bring about desirable results and to place the burden of taxation where it belongs, upon those who are able to pay.

The Senator declared that the problems likely to give most perplexity to the commission were the proper assessment of personal property and the equalizing of the tax rates on real estate in the various counties. He said that while real estate was nominally taxed at full value, many counties tax only about 50 per cent, and in some the assessment is as low as 25 per cent. The commission consists of five members. Five were appointed by the Governor, five by the Speaker of the Assembly. Those appointed by the Governor are Senator Miller, Lawson Purdy, Samuel H. Ordway, Prof. Seligman of Columbia and Charles S. Wheeler of Buffalo. Those appointed by the Speaker are Senator Morton B. Lewis of Rochester, Senator George R. Malby of Ogdensburg, Senator Spencer K. Warrick of Amsterdam, Senator Charles W. Mead of Albany, Senator Charles F. Boshart of Lowville and Assemblyman George M. Palmer of Cohoesville.

The bill creating the commission reads: "Only a part of the commission met last night. They formed themselves into a committee upon organization and considered the selection of counsel and the appointment of sub-committees to take up different lines of taxation. The commission will be in session at Manhattan Beach for several days and will adjourn on Monday, leaving the sub-committees to carry on their different departments of the investigation."

Senator Miller, who was elected chairman of the commission, said that if the commission arrived at definite conclusions the fact that two-thirds of its membership came from the Senate and Assembly would guarantee that their recommendations would be successfully carried out by the passage of laws by the coming Legislature.

OFFERS REWARD FOR BISHOP BOY

Family Now Believes Missing Youngster Has Been Kidnapped.

GUILFORD, Conn., July 10.—After searching for forty-eight hours and spending last night in dragging West River in an attempt to find Clayton Edward Bishop, the six-year-old son of Frank Bishop, who wandered away from his home on Sunday afternoon, the relatives of the boy believe that he has been kidnapped.

The boy started from Sunday school to go to the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Fannie Squires, who lives about a mile from the church, and it was the first time that he had ever made the trip alone. Several friends of his father saw him standing in front of Nicholas Linsky's saloon on Water street, near the bridge. From there all trace of him is lost.

Numerous automobile parties were in the town on Sunday, and a story was circulated to-night that the boy was seen in one of these cars leaving town. Mrs. Squires is convinced that he was stolen and this afternoon offered a reward of $200 for information concerning his whereabouts.

A pedler who arrived here this morning from Branford said that he had noticed a boy answering his description of the missing child in Branford, two miles from Guilford. Searchers immediately started for the spot, but the only trace of the boy were footprints in the sand of the child's alone the road. Many of the residents here believe that the boy, unfamiliar with the way to his grandmother's, wandered off the road and was picked up and taken away by some pedler. The father thinks tramps are holding him for ransom.

The child is of light complexion and light hair. He wore when last seen a brown gingham suit with white stripes, blue cap and black stockings.

S195 FOR GOLDSMITH'S CHAIR

Sold at Auction in London—Wesley Reides Bring Low Prices.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN.

LONDON, July 10.—An interesting sale took place at Sotheby's auction room to-day at the time of his death, in 1774, Oliver Goldsmith, the poet, was in debt to an intimate friend, Edmund Bott, who had lent him considerable sums of money. Bott took possession of Goldsmith's effects and retained the chair which the author had used at his writing desk as the relic most closely associated with the personality of his friend and therefore the most precious.

This chair was in possession of George Shaw-Lefevre, M. P., who died recently, and it was sold to-day at Sotheby's for $125. At the same time several rolls of John Wesley were sold. They did not fetch high prices. A miniature portrait of Wesley, painted on ivory in water colors, sold for $125. It was painted when he was more than 80 years old and represents him holding an open Bible. A writingdesk fetched $25.50 and a card case $102.50. A mourning ring containing a coffin-shaped crystal, under which is the form of a skeleton with diamonds at the head and foot, was sold for $41.25.

Two hundred dollars was paid for a series of twenty letters of Elizabeth Barrett Browning addressed to Hugh Boyd, who, when blind, instructed her in Greek.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN.

COMPIEGNE, France, July 10.—John D. Rockefeller has returned to Compiègne after a motor trip through several of the neighboring departments. Mr. Rockefeller traveled incognito and thoroughly enjoyed the experience. He mingled with the peasantry, asking farmers about the condition of their crops and speaking an encouraging word to the farmers.

Mr. Rockefeller seems to be in splendid health. He has expressed an intention to record his impressions of France in book form. He has made some close observations of the parks of Compiègne with a view to the improvement of some of his estates in America.

Mrs. Strong, Mr. Rockefeller's daughter, is gaining in health. She is now travelling in Germany but will return here before her father departs.

RECEPTION TO LONGWORTHS.

Americans in Paris Meet Them at Ambassador McCormick's.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN.

PARIS, July 10.—Ambassador McCormick gave a reception this afternoon to allow Americans in Paris to meet Mr. and Mrs. Longworth.

The Congressman and his bride attended another reception in the evening given by M. Leygues, Minister of Colonies, in the Bois de Boulogne. Two thousand guests witnessed a performance by the dancers in the suite of King Sesowath of Cambodia. The King was present and was much gratified by the fact that Mrs. Longworth frequently led the applause.

The Weather.

The area of low pressure moving out of the St. Lawrence was still causing showers and thunderstorms yesterday in the lower Lake regions, New York and the New England States.

The temperature, except the extreme Southwest and Northwest, the pressure was high. There were showers and thunderstorms with more heavy rain in the central valleys and in the Southwest.

In the Atlantic States and generally over the Northeast the temperatures were higher, but in the upper Lake regions it was cooler. In other districts slight changes occurred.

The highest temperature reported was 100 degrees at Phoenix, Ariz.

In this city the day was fair until late afternoon, when a thunderstorm came; much warmer; wind, light southeast; average humidity, 81 per cent; barometer, corrected to read to sea level, at 8 A. M., 29.92; 3 P. M., 29.95.

The temperature yesterday, as recorded by the official thermometer, is shown in the annexed table:
